DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's response to the office action filed on July 23, 2003 has been entered. The claims pending in this application are claims 1-16. Rejection and/or objection not reiterated from the previous office action are hereby withdrawn in view of amendment filed on July 23, 2003.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 15 is objected to because of the following informality: " at one or more terminal ends" should be "at its one or more ends".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-4 and 6-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. Claim 1 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Since the claim is directed to a method of non-enzymatic ligation of a nucleic acid and there is no ligation step in the content of the claim, the goal of the method can not be reached. Applicant is required to add a ligation step into the claim in order to overcome the rejection. Please clarify.

Art Unit: 1634

6. Claim 5 is rejected as vague and indefinite in view of preamble of the claim and step (b) of the claim. Since the claim is directed to a method of generating a polynucleotide product and last step of the claim (step (b) is a transducing step, the goal of the method and the last method step does not correspond each other. Please clarify.

7. Claim 6 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Although step (a) of the claim is directed to produce a polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate, there is no step for forming polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate in step (a) of the claim. The phrase "to produce polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose. Although the claim is directed to non-enzymatic ligation of a nucleic acid, there is no non-enzymatic ligation step in the claim. Please clarify.

8. Claim 8 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Although the claim is directed to a method of molecular cloning, there is no step for generating a vector. The phrase "to generate a vector" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose. Furthermore, it is unclear that "an insert polynucleotide" in a vector is different from "an insert" in line 2 of the claim or not. Please clarify.

9. Claim 9 is rejected as vague and indefinite in view of the phrase "said vector comprising an insert polynucleotide" because it is unclear that "an insert polynucleotide" in claim 9 is the same as "an insert polynucleotide" in claim 8. If "an insert polynucleotide" in claim 9 is the same as "an insert polynucleotide" in claim 8, applicant is required to change "said vector comprising an insert polynucleotide" to "said vector comprising the insert polynucleotide" in order to overcome the rejection. Please clarify.

Art Unit: 1634

10. Claim 11 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Although the claim is directed to a method of molecular cloning, there is no cloning step in the content of the claim. Although step (a) of the claim is directed to produce a polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate, there is no step for forming polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate in step (a) of the claim. Although step (b) of the claim is directed to generate a vector, there is no step for generating a vector. The phrase "to generate a vector" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose.

Furthermore, it is unclear that "an insert polynucleotide" in a vector is different from "an insert" in line 7 of the claim or not. Please clarify.

11. Claim 12 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Although the claim is directed to a method of molecular cloning, there is no cloning step in the content of the claim. Although the claim is directed to generate a vector, there is no step for generating a vector. The phrase "to generate a vector" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose. It is also unclear whether a vector comprising said acceptor polynucleotide has said polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate or not. Please clarify.

12. Claim 15 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Since claims 12 and 15 do not specify that said vector is linear, it is possible that said vector is circular. If said vector is circular, the vector is no terminal end which is opposite to claim 15. Therefore, in this situation, the phrase "one or more terminal ends" in the claim lacks insufficient antecedent basis. Please clarify.

13. Claim 16 is rejected as vague and indefinite. Although step (a) is directed to generate a polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate, there is no step for forming polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate. The phrase "to produce polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose. Furthermore, although step (b) is directed to generate a vector, there is no step for generating a vector. The phrase "to generate a vector" is not considered as a step for generating a vector and is considered as a purpose. It is also unclear whether a vector comprising said acceptor polynucleotide has said polynucleotide-3' phosphorothiolate or not. Please clarify.
